Why the hell are you impersonating my grandmother and trying to steal my magazine? I will be going to the press with all of this and carefully making your funeral arrangements.

Please refrain from making threatening statements of this nature towards The Ethereal Gazette staff. If you wish to submit a text to be published at The Ethereal Gazette then you are free to do so. However, we do not appreciate threatening language of this kind.

Kind Regards,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

You are not the real Ethereal Gazette - The Ethereal Gazette is my magazine and been running it sine 2005, so kindly refrain from using the name of The Ethereal Gazette.

We are afraid we are unable to comply with that request. The Ethereal Gazette online magazine is dedicated to creative writing and will continue to publish writers from all over the world free of charge in the years to come. Welcome to visit our site and contribute your works.

Regards,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

The real Ethereal Gazette is a print magazine you asshole.

here's my official website <http://ethereal.ulmb.com> -- you stole my magazine name and impersonated my grandmother. I will be seeing you in court over this. What you're doing isn't parody but copyright violation.

Does that mean that you're not going to be submitting your writing to The Ethereal Gazette, Mr. Pacione? We are saddened to hear that. It would have been a feather in our cap to secure such a prominent and successful writer as yourself for The Ethereal Gazette. We can only hope that our readers will understand and make do with our next publication instead, entitled "Nick Kane & The Devils Derriere - a dark tale of satanic lust". Coming shortly at The Ethereal Gazette.

Kind regards,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

Don't even think about touching Nicholas Kane -- he's my creation you fucking bastard. You fucks are subhuman assholes, and I will take this shit to the press and I will fight for the name Ethereal Gazette. The real Ethereal Gazette's been around five years and you're going to rape the name in matter of days. Why the fuck are you doing this? My grandmother had done nothing to you.

We are sorry to inform you that we're already obligated to the writer, which means that this story will hit the electronic presses as soon as next week. We are not quite certain what the plot entails but our editor mentioned that it involves an investigative journalist called Nicholas Kane who gets involved in some kind of homoerotic pact with the Devil. We guess we'll just have to see when the manuscript arrives at the office.

This issue of The Ethereal Gazette is of course highly exciting and we're really looking forward to it because this writer comes to us directly from the eZine Broken Mindframe Books at <http://brokenmindframebooks.com> and we are of course very eager to have a healthy working relationship with this cutting edge outfit. In the future we hope to bring the world more exciting new stories as joint projects involving both the etherealgazette.com and brokenmindframebooks.com online magazines.

Sincerely,

you fucking faggot -- why are you going after my companies. Broken Mindframe Books isn't an e-zine. You have no fucking right to go do domains after my companies -- I will have you shut down mother fucker. You're practicing elder abuse.

Regretfully we must at this time inform you that you do not legally own any companies. We understand that this might be a difficult concept for you to comprehend, but it is however quite true - you do not own any companies, Mr. Pacione.

Perhaps we might be as bold as to put forward a small suggestion here, for the benefit of everyone involved? Given your obvious lack of ability to fully comprehend matters of this nature, perhaps a slightly less demanding pasttime would be more suitable for yourself? We understand that knitting and basket weaving are popular forms of therapy today. This may be something for you to consider as an alternative.

With best wishes,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

The Ethereal Gazette is my venture you cocksucker. I will have a domain of my own for the company and applying for the grants to make it a bigger magazine. I own Ethereal Gazette and been publishing under the name for five years -- I will continue to publish under the name, and I have a hunting rifle with your name on it.

Please be careful when handling your firearm. Consider that rifles are not toys and must not be handled without adult supervision. We trust that there is a responsible adult in your household who can be present when you play.

Furthermore, we fail to understand your last comment. Is there a manufacturer of hunting rifles called Ethereal Gazette or did you scratch that into the rifle yourself? Do the adults in your household know you did that?

Hugs and kisses,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

You are misleading the real Ethereal Gazette you fucking jagoff and I am taking this to the press -- you are committing elder abuse by impersonating a woman that had nothing to do with this.

Are we to understand that you intend to hold a press conference regarding this matter? Please let us know in advance the time and place you intend to hold this press conference so that duly appointed representatives of The Ethereal Gazette might attend. Would this perhaps take place in a diner of some kind? Perhaps a late night diner, even?

Listen good, I don't know who the hell you are and what right do you have to impersonate a respective magazine that's been around five years. I will always have a line up -- and I will get your domain shut down. I Am going to go to every news crew I can to listen to what you assholes are doing to me and my family, do you even care you're impersonating someone who is just clinging to life? Does that mean anything to you -- or are you truly heartless sacks of shit. I am not closing my ETHEREAL GAZETTE down -- not by a long shot you asshole. I am in the process to doing the paperwork to make it MINE. I am gunning for you -- you are in my fucking crosshairs you goddamn faggots.

We are not quite sure what being in your "fucking crosshairs" is supposed to mean. We have never encountered such a device before. Would this be some sort of sexual aid for people with severe aiming dysfunction? Are you propositioning us for the purpose of homosexual intercourse, Mr. Pacione? In that case, we must respectfully decline. While we do not judge you for your sexual orientation the staff at the Ethereal Gazette does not "swing your way" as we believe the phrase goes.

But on a brighter note we are pleased to announce that we have already received several submissions to The Ethereal Gazette, which will be published over the coming days. Some of them might also be published in cooperation with our colleagues over at Lake Fossil Press, Tabloid Purposes and Broken Mindframe Books, in the spirit of friendship within the online eZine community.

Have a nice day,

The Ethereal Gazette staff

I Am going to the newspapers with this shit you little fakers. You impersonated my fucking family you piece of shit. You're a fucking scumbag. My line ups know about the fake thing you're doing -- crosshairs means I have you on blast and I am going to make an example out of you. You don't fuck with a man's horror magazine. You're looking at JAIL!

Alas, we have grown tired of your impotent posturing now, Mr. Pacione, hence we shall not pursue this line of conversation any further. Quite frankly, you are beginning to bore us to sleep with your gibbering rants.

But do feel free to continue your lovely threats, Mr. Pacione, as our correspondence will now be forwarded to the Morris, IL police department.

We are sure they are interested to read that a mentally unwell man at [street address withheld] claims to be in possession of a firearm and that he is planning to go shoot people with it.

For your own sake, please do not attempt to resist when the police cruiser pulls up, dear Nickolaus.

Best wishes and goodbye,
The Ethereal Gazette staff
